THOUGHTS WHILE EDITING...

Being too mellow just now to compose my usual column of witty reparte', I'd like to pose some thought-provoking (?) questions of indifferent social import....

Why are the caving chairpersons so easily intimidated? Are they hiding something? (By the way, there was a typing ERROR in your submission Paul. Don't let it happen again...)

Are Cathy Lynch and Kathy Lynch really two different people? Or is this an elaborate hoax?

Why are the good-looking guys always headed in the opposite direction on the trail?

What is the best way to sunbathe while kayaking? Is a normal tan possible for anyone in AYH?

How much comment and sarcasm can a Triangle editor get away with....

WE DID IT AGAIN!!!

The AYH canoeing program provides opportunities to learn to paddle, increase your skills through progressive schools, and go out on trips just about any weekend. You can bring your own equipment, or rent a canoe and gear for $6/boat. AYH canoe schools and trips are normally one day each, with occasional weekend or longer trips. You should paddle on a few trips after taking one school before going on to the next, as mastery of the previous skill level is assumed as one progresses.

Bring non-cotton clothing, hat, water bottle, glasses tie-on, rain jacket, tennies, dry clothes in a separate bag, and knee pads. Trips normally meet at HQ at 8:00am. Call the trip leader in advance to reserve space on a trip.

SEA-KAYAK WEEKENDS

Reserve early for AYH Sea-Kayak weekends. Memorial Day will find the sea-kayaks on a camping-bicycling-paddling weekend at Camp Sherwin Hostel on Lake Erie. (See Tom Trump to find out if there is space left.)

June 21-23 features the Great Lakes Kayak Touring Symposium. Dealers, designers, and ordinary paddlers -- a cross section of the kayak touring world -- will share an informal weekend of discussions and demonstrations. Among those expected to attend are the designer of the AYH kayaks and John Dowd, author of the book Sea Kayaking. A Canadian actor will perform an evening of Robert Service's adventure tales. Wilderness State Park near Mackinaw, Michigan (on Lake Michigan and not far from Lake Huron) will be the site of the symposium. There will, of course, be paddling on the lake.

July's kayak plans include a weekend expedition on Lake Erie -- loading all food and gear into the boats and paddling between campsites. Future Triangles will carry details.

Bill Lelik is interested in leading a trip to Assateague National Seashore to enjoy the crabbing and clamming season for a week or ten days at the end of July.

August 10-12 brings the East Coast Kayak Symposium at the Maritime Academy in Castline, Maine. The week before the symposium Cathy Lynch will lead the AYH kayaks on a series of day trips in Casco Bay from a base at a campground on Orr's Island. The week after the symposium, Tom Trump will lead an expedition to some of Maine's scenic wilderness islands north of Casco Bay.

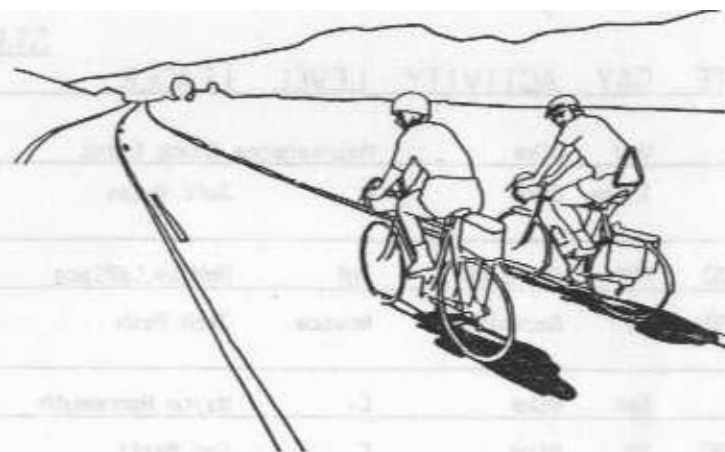

The East Coast Symposium, now in its fourth year, brings together people interested in every aspect of kayaking -- editors, expedition leaders, boat-builders, historians, and dealers in kayaks and kayak equipment. They gather to celebrate kayaking with paddlers of every level of skill and interest, from the rank beginner to the expert.

October 4-6 features the third Small Craft Festival at the Chesapeake Bay Maritime Museum. This is an ideal time to explore the bay around St. Michaels, Maryland and sample the local seafood.

Any interested AYH member is invited to sign up for one of these weekends. Plan now to attend a symposium, festival or a paddling trip - or all. See any of the sea-kayak leaders for further information. Reserve your kayak soon.

PADDLER

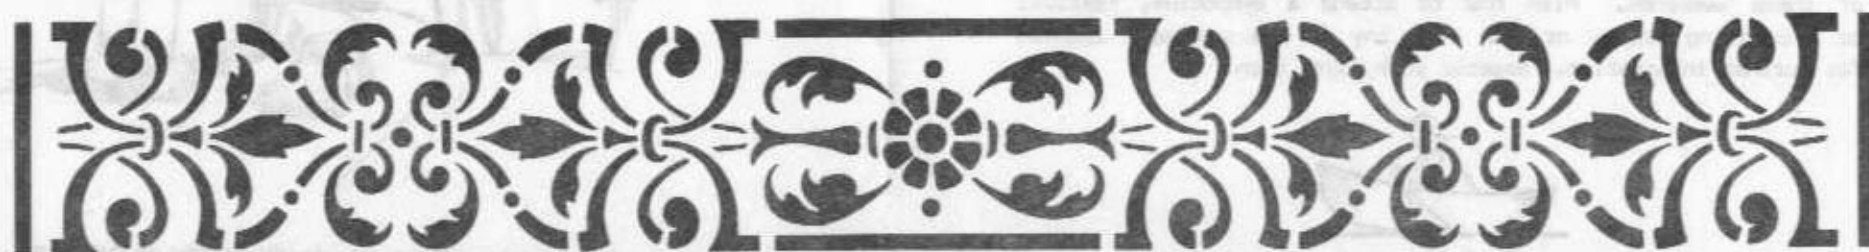

The wheels start slow
Each muscle strains with the weight
The spokes spin faster and faster
The pavement flows by
Legs push harder and harder
Wind builds up
Brushing against my face
The other bikers stand still
As the bike sails by them
Now the pain is gone
Only rhythm remains
The bike stretches far ahead
It flows into the heat and steam of the road
Into the darkness
