LAUREL HIGHLANDS TRAIL NOTES.....

by Bruce Sundquist

You probably know by now that LHHT shelters have to be reserved in advance. (Tel. 412-455-3744) You may not know yet about shelter area wildlife. They are becoming accustomed to people and human food. Grindle Ridge shelters have raccoons and field mice. And the Turnpike shelters (Mile 38.2) have at least 3 skunks--two very large. They will sniff at your boots, eat your excess food, and by at least one report so far, sleep beside you in the shelters! So far there are no reports on anyone being sprayed. Be careful, however. Don't surprise skunks with sudden moves that might excite or frighten them. They add interest to your trip. Don't spoil it for people coming after you.

Elections for the Activity Board and two Board of Directors positions will be held at the Open House meeting on Thursday, October 15. LOST HOSTELS

BY Joe Hoechner

Hostel Development

Last month was rough on Western Pennsylvania Hostel Development efforts. The Laurelville Mennonite Church Center Hostel has ended their affiliation with the AYH system. Located east of Mt. Pleasant, Pa., at the foot of the Chestnut Ridge, they had been listed as a hostel for about 6 years.

Closer to home, the Gilmory Diocese Center Hostel, near the Greater Pittsburgh Airport has also decided not to renew. Down in Oakland, Maryland Camp Minnetoska Youth Hostel will not be rechartering for next year either.

Will Pennsylvania ever get a chain of hostels across the state? We'll have to wait and see. Potential sites for hostels are in and around the following areas: Jamestown, Bedford, Breezewood, Chambersburg, Greensburg, State College, Erie, Warren, Renovo and Lock Haven. (If you think your area could support a hostel, but was not listed, please speak up.)

For more information (or to send suggestions, donations, regrets), contact Hostel Development Chairperson c/o Pgh-AYH.

GOT ANY FIREWOOD LYING AROUND?

The Ohiopyle Youth Hostel is facing another cold winter. The hostel does have an OIL - fired furnace--which burns expensive heating oil. (switch to natural gas? Not in that town--there are no gas lines running into the valley)

The houseparents have retrofitted the living room fireplace with an air-tight cast iron wood stove. All we need now is some firewood!

If you have some wood you can part with, please let AYH know--call Joe Hoechner at 343-3703 or Jim Gogots to arrange a pick-up date.

Better yet, drop it at the Hostel yourself!!!

TIPS AND TALES

by Joe Hoechner

Have you been out to 'Ralph's' lately? Its a great Army/Navy surplus store on RTE 22 in Monroeville. If you're a bicyclist he's got stainless steel bristle 'toothbrushes' that are great for scrubbing dirty bike parts. Priced at $1.79. Lots of stuff for boaters, hikers, etc., too. (It's on the south side of the road about 3/4 mile from the Mall entrance)

The Hostel Storekeeper has a supply of "Cycle Touring Routes in Eastern Pa." available at $3.00 each. ($3.50 by mail) These show a route from the Amtrak station om Harrisbur eastward using Pa. Dutah Country Youth Hostls to Philadelphia. From Philly the routes continue S.E. to Ocean City, N.J. or northward via the Quakertown Hostel to the N.Y./N.J. border. See Joe any Thursday night or call 373-3403.

RUMOR OF THE MONTH...Westinghouse scientist are breeding a strain of Gypsy Moth Cat- arpillars that eat radioactive waste!!!

Anyone up for a November hiking weekend at a Hostel 'Down South'?...
...Actually the Jarpers Ferry Hostel. You could enjoy the fall foliage while doing easy hikes alont the C70 towpath (touring Historic Harpers Ferry) or advanced hikes on the Appalachian Trail.

Climbers would be welcome too--there is a massive rock face overlooking the town
TENTATIVE DATE: 2nd weekend in November.
Leader: Joe Hoechner, 343-3703.

Speaking of the C&O Canal--The 'American Canal and Transportation Center' has a series of four guidebooks to hiking the canal/towpath, providing history, background, camping sites, food stores, etc. Plus they publish other inexpensive books dealing with canals in the MD/PA area. For a price list, send a STAMPED self-addressed envelope to:

A.C. & T.C.

Box 310

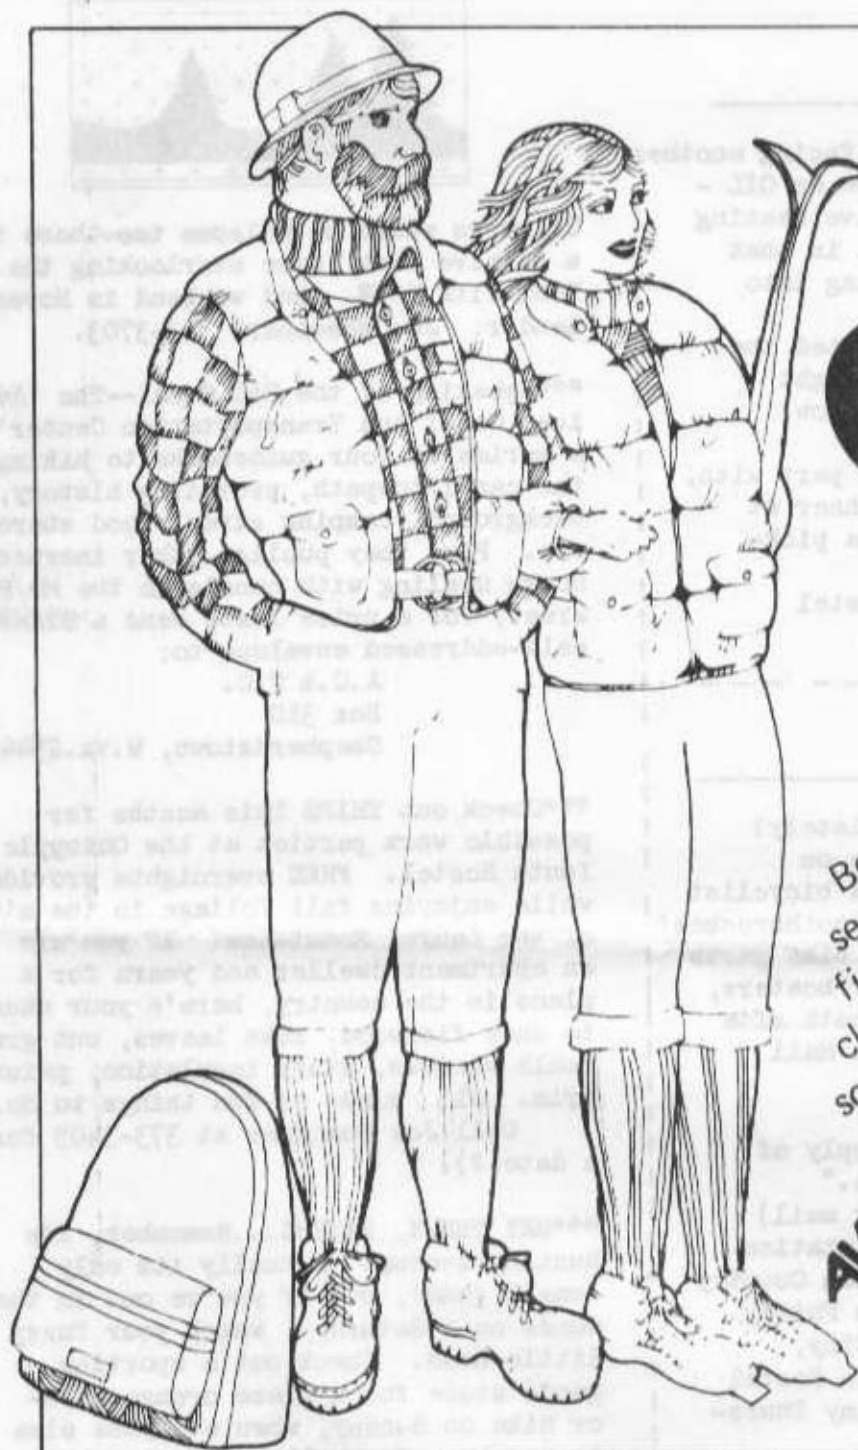

Shepherdstown, W.Va. 25443

Check out TRIPS This months for possible work parties at the Ohiopyle Youth Hostel. FREE overnights provided while enjoying fall foliage in the midst of the Laurel Mountains. If you are an apartment dweller and yearn for a place in the country, here's your chance to chop firewood, rake leaves, cut grass, caulk windows, stuff insulation, paint trim. All kinds of fun things to do.

Call Joe Hoechner at 373-3403 for a date(?).

HEY THERE, HIKERS...Remember, its hunting season. Actually its only 'small game', but if you're out in the woods on a Saturday, watch your fuzzy little head. Check out a sporting goods store for a blaze orange cap-- or hike on Sunday, when everyone else is watching football.
